

Satelite radio has been one of the great innovations in the past 10 years and has greatly improved the radio experienc. If I am listening to XM radio, I should be able to receive local traffic or weather advisories. Right now there is a energy crisis going on and if there is a traffic tie up that can be avoided then it's important to get the message to drivers in the most efficient means possible to help save time and fuel. Don't let the powerful lobbyists stand in the way of technology that serves the public good
